

CONGRATULATIONS!

Officer Daniel Collinge
Sergeant Kevin Leonard
Officer Joshua May
Recipients of the
MACLEA
Heroic Action Award
December 15, 2016

Assumption College Public Safety Officer Daniel Collinge, Sergeant Kevin Leonard, and Officer Joshua May were honored by the Massachusetts Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators (MACLEA) with the Heroic Action Award during a special presentation on Dec. 15. The officers and sergeant were recognized for their performance in responding to a situation on campus this fall in which they deescalated an emotionally challenged individual whose actions had the potential to place herself, the aforementioned officers and the campus community in harm's way.

"Based on the professional and strategic response of Officer Dan Collinge, Officer Joshua May and Sergeant Kevin Leonard, a dangerous situation was resolved without injuries to the suspect or members of the Assumption Community; many of whom were temporarily exposed to risk during the incident," said Chief Steven Carl, Director of Assumption College Public Safety. "The Officers performed their duties in a professional and selfless manner in accordance with the best practices of the industry of law enforcement and the mission of the Assumption College Department of Public Safety. They displayed courage and restraint when performing their duties under hazardous conditions."
